++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Largely dry and sunny. Warm in west, cooler in east.

Today:
Any early mist patches soon clearing to leave a largely dry day with long spells of unbroken sunshine. Small risk of an isolated light afternoon shower over western hills. Feeling warm away from the east coast with light winds. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry with evening sunshine. Continuing dry overnight but cloud increasing from the northwest through the early hours. Risk of a touch of frost before temperatures rise later. Light winds. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Monday:
A rather cloudy day with outbreaks of occasionally heavy rain spreading southeast. The rain turns more showery in the afternoon, with perhaps a few brighter spells developing. Breezier than recently. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Rather cloudy with outbreaks of heavy rain Tuesday giving way to colder more showery conditions, with hill snow, through Wednesday and Thursday. Occasionally fresh northerly or northeasterly winds.
